How I Automated the Job Application Process

Large companies use Automated Resume Filtering Systems

Today, many recruiters and hiring managers rely on algorithms and automated applicant tracking systems (ATS) to scan applicant resumes for the right keywords. If those terms don't feature in your resume, you may get kicked to the "no thanks" pile well before a human ever sets eyes on your application—even if your skills and experience are actually a perfect fit.AI optimization tools like Jobscan and SkillSyncer ensure your resume makes it past discerning ATS algorithms and into the "interview please" pile.
